These boots are great. First event had them submerged for about two days, and the only issue from that was the heel pad came unglued. Easy fix. After drying and being cleaned, they look well worn, but are none the worse for wear. Exactly what I'd expect from combat boots.

The fancier dress uniform usually had two or three white lines on collar and cuffs. Ours are made with 3 stripes, denoting Seaman First Class. WWII sailors preferred to these with short bodies that barely came below the top of the trousers.

- Excellent piece of uniform! Good fit, good fabric, cut and styling matches originals exactly. Also matches a 1549 blue shirt made from the same tropical weight material I still have from the Air Force. Now, if only the dark OD officer's shirt would be made to these same specs...

- On my two holsters I applied lots of neatsfoot oil, put my pistol in a plastic bag and with a lot of pressure made it fit (leaving it at least overnight). It darkens the leather but makes a very nice fit. I'm not sure that the holster is made of steerhide leather but using the above process makes for a fine looking WWII look

Color of beret I received is rifle green rather than the Sherwood green of commando berets. I compared original examples of each to be sure. Even though color is off, excellent quality, fit etc. I'll keep it as it fills a hole in the collection.

Nicely detailed trousers and good drill fabric. The material is exactly the same as mainstreet khaki pants like Dockers, the pants are cut long and tapered, so you'll need to cut off extra material before hemming, the buttons are sewn on tight which is very important, all the main seams are strong, although the front pleat seam are popping open. Love the XXL just received. Fabric is fantastic. Snap Fasteners show shelf life, easily retouched if desired. Initially ordered a size L based on item description - not quite. Returned for an XXL, based upon L sizing. Return process was "no wucking furries". WPG experience is solid there.

The bag seems VERY well made, and nicely done, with well sewn leather taping the seams. Would be great as a small carry-on, or overnight bag. Won't hold a laptop, but fits an iPad/tablet just fine. (This one may even see duty as a diaper bag for a newborn!) The shoulder strap is a thin webbing (think original.

Very quick shipping. Very pleased with the service. The smock looks excellent. I do like the new colours and the overall garment. Points of improvement would be widening the sleeves by at least half the size they are now. Furthermore I would suggest widening the space between the 6 newey poppers on the front.

I simply couldn’t believe the quality of this item for the price! Constructed from 'THICK' beautifully grained brown leather - excellent quality and accurately sized brass fittings. With a bit of leather oil and handling it's undetectable from the real item. There are other decent repo's of this available but not at this price.

A well constructed pouch. The double stitching on the back was helpful as I placed this onto an 08 officers webset which is slightly wider than the sambrowne belt, by slicing through just the inner row of stitches. Dark Browne shoe dye helped the match to my original leather holster. Very reliable delivery times.

UK Sam Browne Belt with 2 braces NEW IMPROVED
204924000
This is a much improved version of our basic Sam Browne belt with braces. The leather is much better quality and the brass hardware is improved. It can be worn with one or two shoulder braces. Leather color is lighter, but can be darkened easily to suit the wearer.

Update
Name: King POG - Location: Northern Illinois - Date: 07-Dec-16
This is an update to the review I wrote earlier. I wanted to add that the cross straps aren't too long. I'm 5 foot 6 inches, with a body shape that my doctor calls 'freakishly obese,' and I wear the cross strap on the second hole from the top.

I am very impressed with the 1878 model haversack. The attention to detail and price should appeal to anyone interested in representing the soldiers of the very late 1870s through the 90s. You have captured the nuances of this American icon very well. I love color, the stippled stud button on the meatcan pouch

The Indy Jacket took a little longer to get to me, considering that my other items shipped faster from the UAE and the jacket came from within the US, but it was still pretty fast. Jacket looks great and is good quality. They seem to fit a bit snug, might want to go a size bigger than usual.

US M1917 Sword Carrier for Patton Sword
103715000

This saddle mounted saber carrier was designed in 1917 to replace the failed M1912 carrier for the Patton Sword. Not many were made, and they were generally used only by officers. This carrier fits the M1912 Patton Sword with the field scabbard. This is a museum quality reproduction.

There will be some quibbles about the weight of the webbing and perhaps the size of the pistol cartridge pouches (which were originally designed for .38 cartridges not .45, and were thus a bit smaller than many people expect), but overall this is a very impressive reproduction.

WPG Classic Jacket

WPG has reproduced a classic style from an original we found.

Vintage sportjacket

- Fits very well to size with the exception that the sleeves are very long - I imagine anyone would need to have the sleeves shortened by at least 1" - otherwise a nicely made and distinctive item, especially for the price.

WWI Officer Musette Bag

This bag was originally used by British officers, but was also popular with American officers and any other soldiers who could get one.

Unbelievable value!

- GREAT bag! Quality product, very well made. Besides its obvious, intended use as military kit, it is a great everyday carry bag, or, god help us, "murse."
